FOREWORD

EDITOR'S NOTE

We would like to thank all the members of the Yearbook Staff who have worked so hard to make the publication of this Yearbook possible.

This book holds many fond memories for the Seniors who are leaving. We wish every success to those who are remaining to carry on the activities of James River High School.

I hope that we, the Seniors of '63, in the coming years will be able to look back into this book and find many remembrances of our life at James River High School.

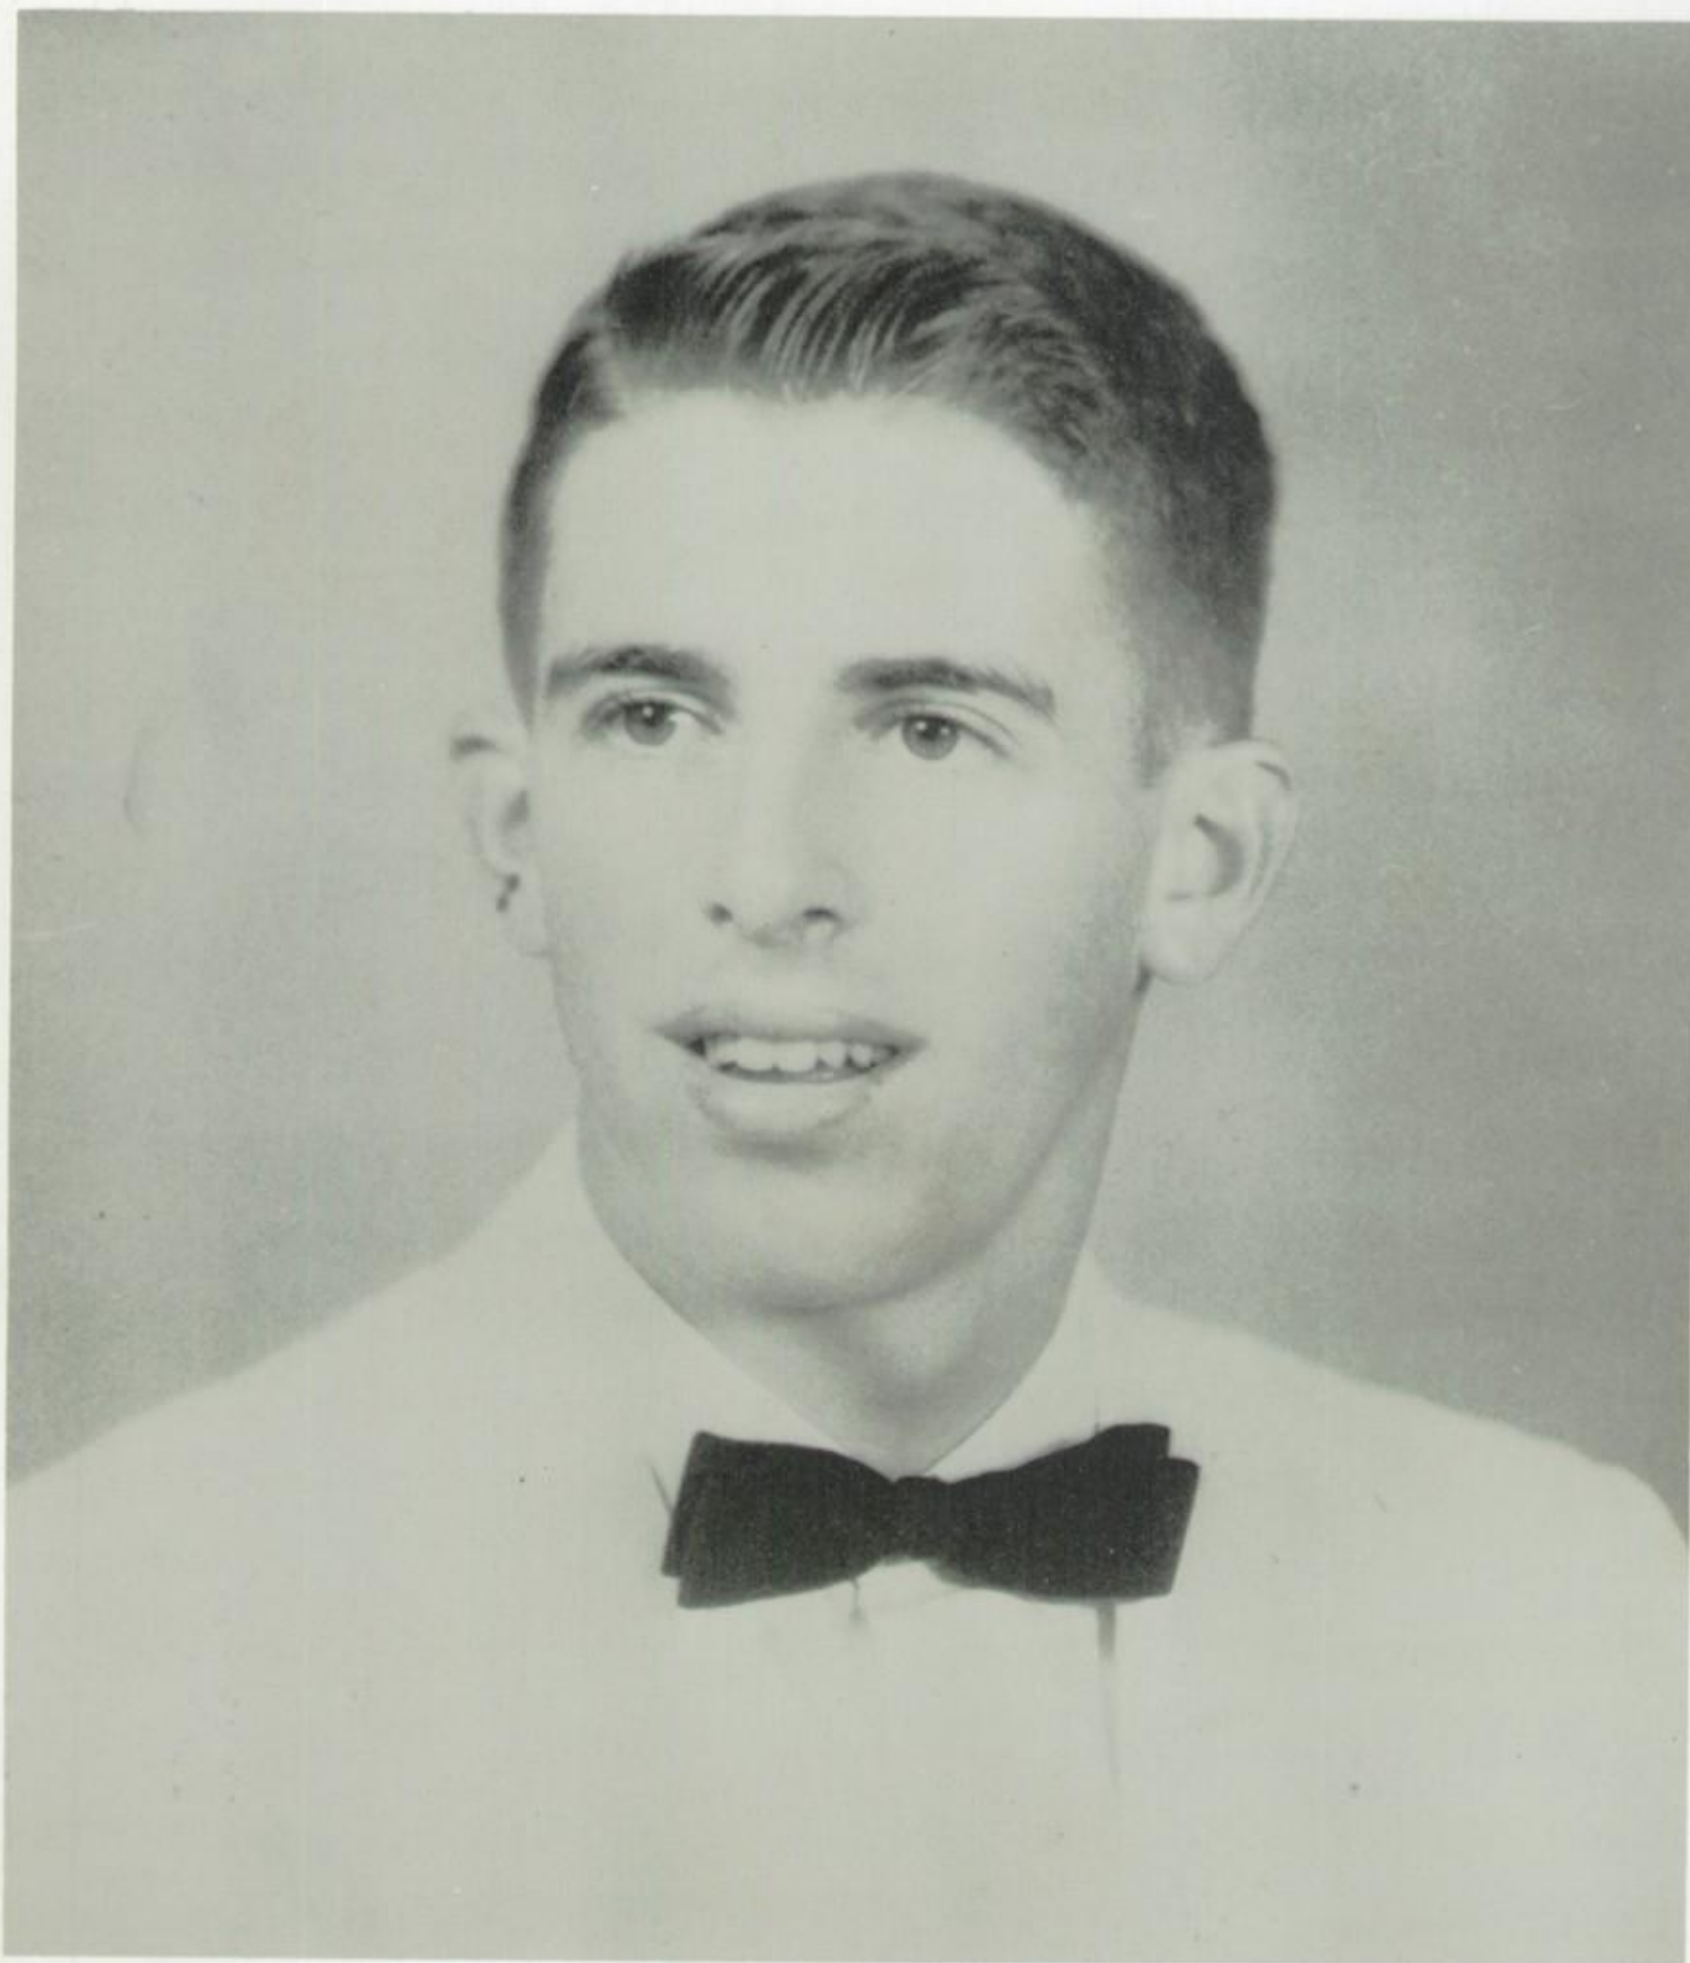

Bonnie, Priscilla, and Judy

We, the assistant editors, hope that the pictures, captions, and drawings will bring back fond memories of the 1962-1963 school year at James River High School.

For the seniors, may it serve as a record of their last year of high school; a tribute to them for having reached their goal - the completion of their high school education.

We sincerely appreciate everyone who has helped us in any way.

Jean Vise
Nancy Dickerson
Rosemary Vaughn
Nancy Hyde.

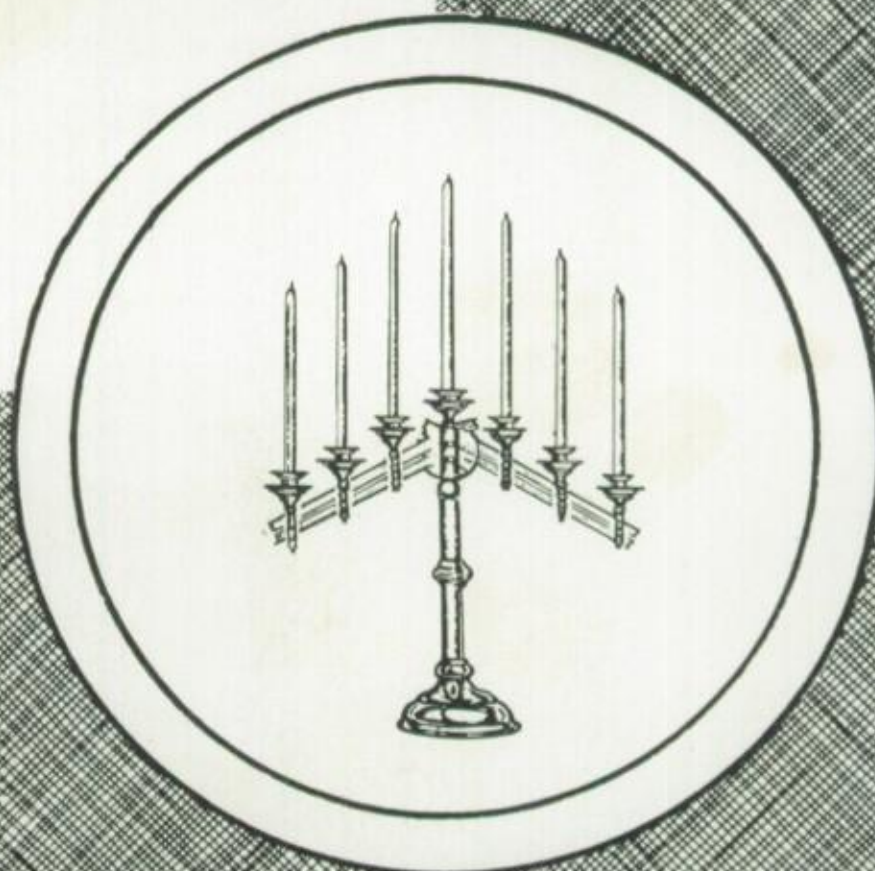

We, the Senior class of 1963, wish to dedicate the Kanawhan to Mr. Gary Osborne. We are extremely grateful for his hard work, and unselfish devotion, for he has made our Athletic program what it is today.

From the past to the present teachers have guided us through various phases of academic growth. They have been effective in giving every student fundamentals which would be essential for becoming better citizens. Through class association with each of these teachers we have come to know them as our friends.

Chapter 3 THE BEGINNINGS OF GOVERNMENT IN THE UNITED STATES

The roots of American government reach deep into the past. Our system of government did not suddenly spring into being as at the wave of some political magician's wand. Nor was it pulled out of thin air by the

The Colonial Period

Our English Heritage. The French, Spanish, Dutch, Norwegian, and other Europeans settled in parts of what was to become the United States. But it was the English who came in the largest numbers. And it was the English who came to control the thirteen colonies that stretched for 1,200 miles along the Atlantic seaboard.

These early pioneers who cleared the wilderness and fought off the Indians had to back out their own economic future in the New World. But they came here in search of greater freedom and they brought with them all the political ideas and customs of their native England. They brought with them the ideas of a government of laws, of a government of the people, of a government for the people. These ideas were the foundation of the American government.

They brought with them the ideas of a government of laws, of a government of the people, of a government for the people. These ideas were the foundation of the American government. They brought with them the ideas of a government of laws, of a government of the people, of a government for the people. These ideas were the foundation of the American government.

SETTLERS AT WORK

Early Americans had to live together in harmony, or they would not survive. This was called "government in order to live," the beginning of our government today.

of which are to be found today—equality, honesty, jury, sheriff, customs, and justice of the peace, for example. And all of these were well known in England long before the first Englishman ever landed in America.

(1) The Two Concepts of Limited Government and Civil Liberties. They brought with them, too, the twin ideas of limited government and civil liberties. That is, that government is not all-powerful; that government is limited in what it may do, and, especially, that it is limited in the sense that each man has certain rights that government cannot injure or take away. These great principles of freedom were proclaimed in such historic English documents as the Magna Carta in 1215, the Petition of Right in 1628, and the Bill of Rights and the Act of Toleration of 1689.

(2) The Concept of Representative Government. A third vitally important concept brought to America in English ships was that of representative government. For centuries there had been developing in England the

CLUB

Induction of new members into the Beta Club.

The Cardinal Virtues of life are represented by the Beta Club emblem. The letter "B," Beta, is the initial character of the Greek word Bios, which means "life." Above the letter "B" appear three stars, which represent the spiritual side of human life in the specific traits of altruism, honesty, and courage. Loyalty to country and the principles upon which it was founded are signified by an eagle with outspread wings which stands below the letter "B." The background of ebony on which these symbols are displayed represents the dignity, restraint and seriousness which should attend our research for knowledge and truth.

The words, "Achievement, Character, Leadership" which appear in the scroll beneath the emblem are the cardinal attributes upon which depend membership in the Beta Club.

THE ROUNDTABLE

PURPOSES

The ROUNDTABLE, which has been in existence since the fall of 1959, is published every six weeks with the chief purpose of serving and being accepted by the student body. In each issue of James River's only newspaper, a good variety of editorials and feature articles are printed along with the school's activities, including a complete coverage of all sports.

The ROUNDTABLE is a member and first place award winner of the Southern Interscholastic Press Association. The majority of its staff members are members in good standing of the International Honorary Society for High School Journalist, Quill and Scroll.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

This is the way the auditorium of our school looks on the nights of the monthly Parent-Teachers Association meetings. When you become an active member in the Parent-Teachers Association you are benefiting yourself as well as your children. So let's back up our officers and attend these meetings regularly.

The James River High School Varsity Club was organized during the school term 1961-1962. The club is made up of boys who have been approved by a special committee, have a "C" average, and have a scholastic letter for a varsity athlete.

The Varsity Club was organized to promote sportsmanship among the athletes and the entire student body and to encourage more of the students to participate in James River's athletic program.

Every club has a symbol, usually a pin, that represents the club and that its members wear. Instead of pins the Varsity Club has jackets. These jackets are red and white and have sewn on them the J.R.H.S. letter, the name of the member, and the year in which he will graduate. It is impossible to overlook these jackets because they "stand out." However, while they "stand out," they identify the out-standing boys that make up our Varsity Club.

CENTER: Gary Alphin and Bruce Johnson.

The Quill and Scroll is a national honorary society for high school journalists. The main purpose of the group is to promote interest in journalism at the high school level.
